ILLINOIS G. O. P. PRIMARY TO BE WIDE OPEN RACE

Candidacies Shunned at Big Gatherings in Peoria and Pekin

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Declarations for party harmony and a "wide-open" primary next April were made today at the meeting of the Republican state central committee with a group of party leaders.

The Illinois Republicans avoided all suggestions for an endorsement of 1936 candidates before the primary.

Suggestions that an agreed state be endorsed for the April primary were discouraged in advance of dual Republican rallies at Peoria and Pekin.

"Harmony is what we are after," said John H. Searing of Carbondale, newly elected chairman of the central committee. "We are sure we can win next year, and we want to do all we can to promote the best interests of the party."

Important Meeting

Aspiring and potential candidates were in attendance for what many termed the most important Republican meeting downstate since the grass roots convention at Springfield in June.

Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, who has been endorsed for the presidency by the Cook county Republican committee, was scheduled to address a noon luncheon. He also will speak at an afternoon roundup of sixteen congressional district Republicans at Pekin.

Candidates maneuvered for position in the April primary field, but in the talk of alignments there was no disposition to have the committee give its endorsement to any aspirants for governor, senator and the seven other offices to be filled by a state wide ballot next year.

Searing's First Meet

It was the first state committee meeting presided over by Searing, who was elected chairman recently when Chicago members succeeded in ousting Justus L. Johnson of Aurora.

Mrs. Mary L. Silvers of Rock Island was mentioned for the appointment of chairwoman of the Republican women. She would succeed Mrs. Mary E. Fringer of Rockford.

Congressman Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin and Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville are scheduled to speak at the Pekin rally this evening.

Searing called upon Republicans to meet their responsibility in a governmental crisis and criticized President Roosevelt on the constitutional issue.

"I can never believe," Searing said, "that any man or woman can be a power for good who fails to keep his word in public or private affairs."

Honesty Essential

"How can the president hope to inspire faith and confidence after taking a solemn oath and then telling congress to pass a law when there are doubts as to its constitutionality? Common honesty is the same between the man on the street and the man who holds public office."

"How can the business man have confidence in a president who lightly regards his oath? What this country needs first of all is confidence."

John G. Oglesby of Elkhart, former lieutenant governor and a potential 1936 candidate for governor, issued a statement saying: "Our governments are leaving a trail of broken promises, ruin and bankruptcy through the nation and the state. To right this situation the task before us is not an easy one."

"We should remember one thing—this is no time for Republicans to tomahawk Republicans. We must militantly present an united front to the Democrats to save the country from ruin and disaster. I take my stand for the taxpayers against the tax-spenders."

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dobbs Ferry police said today the son of Grover A. Whalen, former New York city police commissioner, was missing and his father feared he has been kidnaped.

The Department of Justice agents were reported to have been called into the case.

The boy, Grover A. Whalen, Jr., 14, was said to have vanished while his bags were packed, standing on the front porch of his home. A car was waiting to take him to the station to enjoin for a private school.

HURRICANE IS MOVING ABOUT CARRIBBEAN SEA

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The southern coast of Cuba had begun to feel early this afternoon strong winds on the outer fringe of a tropical hurricane in the western Caribbean sea.

A Pan-American Airways plane near Santa Cruz, reported it was flying in a 35 mile northeast wind.

Gordon E. Dunn, meteorologist at the United States weather bureau office here, said the advance of the hurricane probably was causing strong winds along the southern Cuban coast between Guantanamo Bay and Cienfuegos.

The steamer Gutan reported at 9 A. M. it was riding in a full hurricane wind, 75 miles an hour or more 75 miles south southwest of the extreme western tip of the island of Jamaica. The Gutan's barometer was at 29.53 inches and falling.

Kingston, Jamaica, had a 29.72 barometer and a 16-mile southeast wind, with rain. Negri Point, on the southwestern shore of Jamaica, reported a barometer of 29.72 inches and still falling. A 16 mile southeast wind was blowing.

CINCINNATI OFFICERS PATROL RACE RIOT AREA

Cincinnati, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Heavily armed police squads, in cruisers and afoot, patrolled Cincinnati's west end today after a night of sporadic outbreaks and threatened mass attacks between whites and negroes.

Behind the trouble, said negro children who were victims of sticks and stones as they made their way to school, was a remark concerning boxer Joe Louis, victor over Max Baer, in New York Tuesday night.

At least 20 men and youths of both races were under arrest on assorted charges. One patrolman reported he was injured as he chased negro assailants of an unidentified white man; another said he dodged numerous rocks as he attempted to take a man into custody.

Walter Kemps, 40, was listed as an innocent victim of the outbreaks when he was treated at a hospital for shoulder bruises. He reported several negroes hurled a rock through his automobile as he drove to his home.

Tavern Keepers in County Court Today

Four Lee county road house proprietors are summoned to appear before Judge Leech in the county court to answer to informations which charged them with the sale of beer on Sunday in violation of the resolutions adopted by the board of supervisors last December. Fines of $50 and costs were assessed this morning. The defendants were granted a 30 day period in which to pay the fine and costs.

Sheriff Ward Miller and a deputy testified against the road house proprietors, the latter stating that he had made purchases on Sundays at both places and two additional road houses. One of the latter proprietors was scheduled to appear in county court this afternoon and the second to answer the charges next week. County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock also testified at the hearing this morning, portions of the county board of supervisors' records which pertained to the control of road houses in Lee county, having been entered as a part of the evidence in each case.

At the conclusion of the hearings, State's Attorney Edward Jones recommended a fine of $50 and costs in each instance, adding that this was also the recommendation of Chairman William F. Burhenn of the Lee county liquor control committee.

Deputy Sheriffs Face Official Investigation After New Jersey Woman was Felled by Five Bullets

Elizabeth N. J., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dr. C. A. Brokaw, Union county physician, announced today after an autopsy that Mrs. Sophie Crempa, slain at Scotch Plains in a battle with deputy sheriffs, died from five bullet wounds in the abdomen.

Dr. Brokaw and his assistant Dr. George H. Horre, said that three of the bullets had been extracted from the body of the woman, who was killed late yesterday at her home. The other bullets apparently went through the body.

The bullets will be turned over to County Prosecutor Abe J. David, he said, for ballistics experts to determine which of the deputies' guns fired them.

David is directing the investigation of the Scotch Plains battle which climaxed efforts of officials to serve court contempt papers on Crempa for interfering with a high tension power line stretching across his property.

MINERS' STRIKE SETTLED; WAGE PACT IS AGREED

Workers, Out Since Monday, to Return to Work Next Week

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A peace pact that spells the end of the nation's soft coal strike in all but four producing districts was reached early today. The miners will go back to work next Tuesday, after having been out since Monday morning.

Union leaders and operators agreed in the early morning hours upon a new wage contract giving the miners increases in pay for virtually all types of work. The contract, replacing one which originally expired last April 1, will extend until April 1, 1937.

The increase granted the miners was estimated by union officials to represent a possible $90,000,000 fatter pay envelope during the year and a half the contract runs. Basing their calculation on a hypothetical estimate of an annual production of 400,000,000 tons and an operators' estimate that the increase would mean 15 cents a ton, they computed the yearly increase at $60,000,000.

Based on 1934 production of about 350,000,000 tons, the new contract would mean $78,750,000 for the year and a half contract.

Representatives of operators in the Virginia and Hazard, Kentucky, districts refused to sign the new agreement until they received assurances that mine owners in the Tennessee and Harland fields in Kentucky would sign.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said the strike would be continued in these areas until the contract was signed.

Lewis Satisfied.

After expressing satisfaction with the new wage pact, Lewis criticized the stand of the dissenting producers who have been at loggerheads over wage differentials for the competing fields.

"The whole nation," he said, "should not be compelled to suffer and the coal industry returned to chaos because operators producing only 3,500,000 tons fail to find themselves in agreement with this contract."

He added the union would appeal to the government to provide relief.

Potato Production Control Act Opens Homes to Snoopers

Mounds, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—State Representative Clinton Searle of Rock Island denounced the new Federal law for control of potato production in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of Pulaski county Republicans today.

Denouncing penalties in the act as "smacking of the Boston Tea Party days of King George," Searle said:

"In the prohibition days the penalties of that act applied to the seller of intoxicating liquors, but not to the buyer."

"In these New Deal days, not only the seller but the buyer will be subjected to the penalties of fine or imprisonment for bootlegging potatoes, x x x"

"This drastic un-American potato bill not only subjects three million potato farmers to a compulsory regimented control, but also the potato bins of over 120 million citizens to the prying eyes of bureaucratic agents, inspectors, snoopers and spies."

VIGILANTES OF MISSOURI TOWN GET BANK THUG

Potosi, Mo., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Shot twice by town vigilantes, a man who identified himself as Richard Freeze, Joliet, Ill., was in the county jail here today, following an unsuccessful attempt to loot the bank of nearby Irondale.

A robber who entered the bank yesterday and took W. H. Jamison, cashier, as a hostage while he systematically gathered up all the loose cash, was shot in the left leg and right shoulder as he started to leave the building.

Jamison, while in custody of the bandit within the bank, set off an alarm that rang bells in every section of the town. Citizens, armed with pistols and rifles, surrounded the building. When the robber sought to leave he ordered Jamison to step to the door and call an automobile for him. The cashier did so, then stepped out of the way and the townsmen opened fire.

Sheriff Stephen T. Richards of Washington county said the wounded man's condition was not serious.

Large Still Found on Farm at Joliet

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Federal agents today raided a farm four miles south of here, confiscating a large still and nearly 3,000 gallons of alcohol.

The raiders captured two men, Joe Edwards and Barney Frankhorn. Two others found cover in a corn field and escaped, the agents said.

Ready for shipment, the agents found 575 five-gallon cans of alcohol. They seized two trucks, three autos, and 100,000 gallons of mash in addition to the still's finished product.

PLAY TODAY ON WET FIELD AND IN BITTER COLD

St. Louis, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The sensational Chicago Cubs came to the climax of their glorious baseball road today by slugging the great Dizzy Dean into submission with 15 hits and clinching the National League pennant with their 20th straight victory, a 6 to 2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bill Lee, the ex-Cardinal fan hand who has won 19 and lost 6 for the leading winning percentage of the league's moundmen this season, was handed the honor assignment by Manager Charlie Grimm, who professed certainty of clinching the flag with the 20th Cub triumph in succession, the most spectacular winning streak in 19 years.

Conditions not only were bad for baseball but very treacherous for a team that was about to go into the world series against Detroit. The infield was muddy in spots and slippery after a 30 hour rainfall. The area around the sidelines was almost a complete quagmire with pools of water dotting the landscape.

A brisk northwest wind swept over the field and the thermometer read 54 degrees. Only 6,000 fans huddled in blankets and overcoats, sat shivering in the stands at game time.

HAVE NO TIME?

By Joseph Fort Newton

WE live only the smallest part of life; all the rest is not life, but time," said Seneca, the old Roman philosopher, who was so in love with life and regretted so wistfully its brevity.

The man who is a miser in regard to money, he adds, turns spendthrift when it comes to disposing of time, whereas that is the one time when avarice is a virtue—if we only see it so.

"Really I haven't a moment to myself," writes a woman reader. "I get no rest day or night. I can't collect my thoughts, much less say my prayers. Yet I never have time to do what I want to do."

How many of us are in the same plight—going places, doing things, or planning to do them, and getting little done. We are so busy just being busy, like a squirrel in a cage, mistaking motion for movement.

Yet we have all the time there is, just one moment at a time, for that is what a day adds up to. Only we do not know how to organize it, use it, fill it, and one day is like the rest, gone before we know it.

Our fear of spare times makes us plan something for tonight, something for tomorrow night, and for next week. In this way we hope to escape the terrifying emptiness of life—is it not so?

What does my distracted reader want to do? Does she know? Until she asks that question and answers it honestly—that is, until she makes up her mind about it—she will have no time.

Those who never have time are always afraid of losing or missing something, and for that reason they lose the only thing that counts—time, and life. Only busy men have time to do anything.

How few of us know how to relax for a moment, to get out of the grind, to let go and rest, free of the hurry flurry of things. Yet, if repeated until it becomes a habit, it would make us over.

Yes, we imagine we have everything all planned, mapped out. We have a scheme for everything except our own restless, feverish soul, which beats its butterfly wings against the bars of an empty life.

Look Neat, Always, To Be Beautiful

By ALICIA HART

NEA Service Staff Writer
Makeup to match the complexion you've bleached and treated so carefully until not a trace of summer tan remains is no more important than preparations and routines to keep you dainty and well groomed.

The fastidious woman who wants to be immaculate all winter should see that her bathroom shelf contains an effective deodorant and that her budget is adjusted to allow her larger dry cleaning bills.

Just because your woolen dresses don't show every trace of dust, you can't put off sending them to the cleaners. Dark felt hats need to be brushed on the outside and sponged with cleaning fluid on the inside as frequently as did your summer bonnets. White collars and cuffs must be laundered daily. Of course, the old rules about fresh underwear and stockings each morning are important to observe.

Make it a habit never to leave your house in the morning wearing anything you'll be embarrassed about if an important luncheon invitation comes your way. Be sure that your are scrupulously neat and clean from your very skin outward to your topcoat. Coats, incidentally, ought to be brushed and hung in the sunshine for two or three hours at least once every two weeks.

Put shoe trees in your shoes the minute you take them off. This way, they'll keep their shape much longer and look infinitely neater and better on your feet. Then, too, shoes ought to be aired in the sunshine now and then.

Get a deodorant and use it as often as necessary. If the skin under your arms isn't especially sensitive, a strong one that has to be used only once a week is ideal. For skins that are easily irritated, there are mild types—just as effective, but requiring more frequent use.

Tailored For Fall

Smartly dressed, these young women wear classic tailored fall outfits. The girl at the left has a topcoat of military inspiration in soft, hairy tweed, trimmed with leather buttons and flap pockets, belted across the back, and a guardsman's scarf, in gay plaid wool, tucked into the neck. The matching bag and shoes, in suede, carry out the brass eyelets detail. Her companion sports a plaid ensemble in rough tweed. The two-piece suit is form-fitting through the waist and is worn with a soft silk blouse buttoned comfortably at the throat. Her brogues are belted across the instep. Pigskin gloves and a crushed fedora, trimmed with brush feathers at the side, are the accessories chosen to complete the outfit.

Reception for Rev. Gordon and Family Delightful Event

Members and friends, numbering 165, of Bethel United Evangelical church, tendered their pastor, the Reverend Paul Gordon and family, a very warm-hearted and happy welcome back to this field of activities in the Lord's service.

These highly esteemed folks are not entirely new here as they served in this capacity once before for a short period, and now, as the recent conference decided to return them, both congregation and pastor will take up the work again, with renewed anticipation of great blessings in Bethel church.

A picnic supper at 6:30 was served in the church and was greatly enjoyed. The tables were beautiful in their white linens and fall flowers, and here a social hour of Christian fellowship and "get acquainted" spirit, prevailed.

A "shower" table laden with many useful articles and tempting food, was brought to the notice of the Gordons and Rev. Gordon in graciously thanking his friends said he much more appreciated this "pounding" than the one he got on his birthday anniversary when he was here before.

The following program was given in the church auditorium, Homer Sennett presiding, with much wit and humor interspersed throughout:

Doxology—Congregation.
Scripture reading and prayer—Mr. Foster.

Welcome from the Church—J. U. Weyant.

Welcome from the pastor's class of young men—Clifford Huggard, president of the class.

Vocal duet—Richard Weyant and Robert Fulmer.

Original reading—Cleora Wadsworth.

Address—Rev. A. D. Shaffer.

Vocal solo—Minnie Zigler, with Mrs. Richard Weyant accompanying the vocal numbers.

Closing prayer—Rev. Gordon.

And with many of the forceful words spoken lingering in all hearts and memories, Bethel members and friends reach forward to a higher plain of service in the building of Our Master's Kingdom, and thus a fine spirited and happy occasion came to a close.

"I've discovered Calumet's big, new 10¢ can!"

"No more 'by-guess-and-by-golly' baking in this house now!"

says Mrs. Owen H. Fleming, 1235 Judson Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Fleming was one of the first women to get the big, new 10¢ can of Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

"No need for any woman to take chances with her baking now," she says. "That new 10¢ can of Calumet certainly means that the very best can be bought at a bargain."

Ask your grocer to show you the new, bigger 10¢ Calumet can!

A SIMPLE TWIST... and the Easy-Off top lifts off. No spilling, no broken finger-nails!

WHY DOES CALUMET give such astonishing "lifting" action? Why is Calumet different from other baking powders? Because Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick one for the mixing bowl, a slower one for the oven... And Calumet's famous double-action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening—every time.

All Calumet prices are lower! Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history. The Full-Pound Can now sells regularly for only 25¢. And if you want a smaller size—get the big, new 10¢ can—a lot of good baking for a dime—with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

STRANGE INTERLUDE

The jittery world has been wondering why, if Italy intends to make war on Ethiopia, the war doesn't start. A few weeks ago we were assured that the long-expected war would begin September 27, on which date the Ethiopian rainy season ends officially. Then somebody threw water all over Mussolini's plans by saying he would have to wait until the ground dried which would take a couple of weeks more. And finally a medical authority reported that after the ground dries there will be a spell of fever into which Mussolini, if he values his reputation as a Caesar, should not send his troops.
This will take until around the middle of November to run its course.

The last word from the league of nations is that neither Italy nor Ethiopia can start fighting before December 4 without violating the covenant.

In the meantime, presumably, we must be content with arguments at Geneva, which is a very poor substitute for the excitement of actual war. Of course no one wants the excitement of war at present, except the Italians and the fierce tribesmen under Haile Selassie. It must be extremely disappointing to the bloodthirsty Danikals and the equally bloodthirsty blackshirts to be compelled to set in their tents after being marched all the way up the hill, so to speak.

Mussolini himself must be in a terrible lather. He had anticipated a sharp, short reply to the league, which would thereupon resume the game of checkers. What he did not foresee was that he would have to deal with the British navy, a situation which has given him extreme pain in the neck. Mussolini wanted to conquer the Ethiopians in a very decisive, Napoleonic campaign then turn his seasoned troops in other directions.

A few days ago Mussolini's mouthpiece remarked that Italy would not hesitate to play her big trump card if necessity required such strategy. The authoritative commentators on international puzzles have not yet looked into the mirror to see what trump card Mussolini had in mind, but it is remarkable how still Adolf Hitler has been keeping of late. Excepting one wrathful outburst at the Jews and a speech on the Memel situation. Herr Hitler has spent most of his time boondoggling.

Germany is just emerging from the league of nations.
If Mussolini is permitted to conquer Ethiopia, Hitler can say with some justice that he, too, ought to be excepted from league rules. Hitler will say that if Italy, a member of the league, can make war for more colonies, that privilege ought to be extended to a non-member.

What makes Mussolini so fighting mad is that the league, apparently, is trying to sacrifice Italy again on the altar of the status quo. It will be remembered that Italy entered the war on the side of the allies after she had been promised colonies as a reward. After the war the colonies were not forthcoming, due to the fact that England and France wanted them. In case Mussolini needs to, he can remind his people of that broken pledge and get a great deal of support.

No conclusion can be reached in discussing the present crisis. A trifling excursion by Ethiopian soldiers into Eritrea, or an explosion on board one of the battleships which clutter up the Mediterranean, or even a smile by one of the statesmen at Geneva could affect world history.

CCC JOBS GO BEGGING

There is room for 100,000 more men in the CCC army, with no takers.

It should be explained in this connection that congress enlarged the quota from 300,000 to 600,000, and with enrollments restricted to persons on relief, the army has not been filled. More than that enlistments are expiring at the rate of 10,000 a month, while only half that number are being replaced.

There has been so much merit in the CCC that we have been disposed not to examine it too closely for the errors of bureaucracy. Of course they are there. They started off with a bad odor attached to the purchase of kits, but such things may be expected. It has come to our attention that the specifications for butter and for eggs purchased for these camps are of a higher grade than most of us eat at home, but probably we should not inquire too closely into that, if this army wins the war it was enlisted to fight.

As a cure for the depression, tree planting will not go down in history as a great success, but it was a worthwhile undertaking to get idle persons off the highways and byways and into regular habits and industrious pursuits.

DOES BETTER AT BOONDOGLING

"From my point of view it has been clearly proven force never did settle anything," said Mrs. Roosevelt at her press conference.

Let no one awaken her. She thinks we still are subjects of Great Britain and that there is a Confederate States of America where slavery flourishes.

From our point of view she does better as an authority on boondoggling.

We still wrestle with the problems of childhood, youth, old age. We still love and hate; suffer and die.
All our wonderful inventions leave untouched the eternal in human life.—The Rev. William Paxton, London minister.

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Sven Stangley

Rochelle—Several improvements were made in the Hub Theater last week, including the installation of a new sound system, resurfacing of the screen and redecorating of the lobby.

Friday morning an engineer from the Ultraphone Jewell Sound Co.
installed a new and complete sound system of a high-range, high-fidelity sound which is the best that can be purchased. The interior has been improved for acoustics although being a modern theater, rapid strides have been made in sound since the theater was built.
Jack Alger, son of F. F. Alger, owner and operator of the Alger's Theaters, redecorated the lobby and foyer, producing a very attractive and colorful entrance to the theater.

Also resurfacing of the screen, giving a much clearer and lighter picture is another feature among the improvements.

Many improvements have been made under the management of Ralph Tafinger, and has proven himself a very able manager.

The Alger's have spent a large amount of money to give Rochelle the finest theater possible. They have just recently added a new theater to their circuit at Urbana called the Albino Theatre.

The Harvest Festival, sponsored by the American Legion for the benefit of the Junior Legion drum corps of Rochelle, opened here on Wednesday evening of this week.

Legionnaires are in charge of all the concessions and entertainment features which are being offered on new programs nightly. Roy Weston, John P. Manning and Ed Slothower are the committee in charge of staging the event.

The Rochelle Woman's club will present a fine program for the coming season which opens Oct. 11. For an opening date tea will be given in honor of new members. Mrs. Florence Stroth, past president of the 13th Federation of Women's Clubs and a member of the state Federation board, will give some of the high points of the General Federation held in Detroit last spring.

Dr. Preston Bradley of Chicago will be the speaker on the evening of Oct. 25 and his subject will be of his impressions gained from three months of observation in Europe the past summer.

Mrs. John Weiss of Dixon, well known in club circles, will speak on "Psych and Sentiment" on Nov. 8.
Nov. 22, Mrs. Jeannette Thielen
Phillips of Chicago, who gave one of the most popular programs last year, will have for her subject,

"Prints as Decorations."

Dec. 6 the annual Guest Night dinner has been planned. The program for this occasion, the May luncheon and the annual election meeting will be selected later.

The annual installation of officers-elect of the American Legion

The old man whom the Indians had just trussed along. He seemed real sad. "I wonder why they've captured him," said Scouty, with a frown.

"He looks as friendly as can be.
It isn't fair, if you ask me. Why don't they let him go, so he can reach his own home town?"

"Well, don't ask me," said Doty.
"I am puzzled, too. What say we try to turn the old man loose? Perhaps we can do that tonight."

"While all the Indians are asleep, up to their prisoners we'll creep.
Then, we can tell him to start out and run with all his might."

"It might be wise if we go, too.
The Indians, you see, might do most anything to pay us back.
We've been here long enough."

"So far there's been no cause to fuss, but maybe they've been fooling us. Who knows, but what it is their plan to shortly get real rough."

"Oh, I still think they are all right," replied wee Scouty Timmyte.

"Why, look, they're coming back toward us. The man does not seem scared."

"His hands are being untied. Gee, it all is very strange to me. I think the man is lucky. Think how real well he has fared."

The man then shouted, "Howdy do. Don't be afraid. The joke's on you. These Indians are my real good friends. They tied me up for fun."

"The reason that they brought me here is for your good, so do not fear. They tell me you are looking for new things beneath the sun."

And then he shook hands all around, and said, "I'm really glad I've found such cheerful little tots.
It makes me happy as can be."

"I'm going to the County Fair and I will gladly take you there, and show you all a real good time.
If you go with me."

Well, Well! The Waltz Is Coming Back! Would You Recognize It?

It isn't hard now to understand why our elders don't give a fig for modern dances. All you have to do is picture grandma, hoopskirts and all, being whirled about by grandpa in the ziddy manner demonstrated above by Ramon, famed stage and screen dancer, and his partner, Renita. Surprising as it may seem, this is the old-fashioned waltz, which, according to Ramon, is making a comeback in modern guise. He calls it "The Love Waltz," and, above, reveals three of its phases. At left is the "whirlwind" motif, the girl being whirled about like a discus. There is a brief, romantic interlude titled "The Kiss" in which the partners trade soulful glances. Then comes the "Whirl," in which the young lady gyrates wildly, providing a smashing terpsichorean climax whether or not the male partner lets go.

A number of teachers from Mon-the special references made toward that great document. The regular however, provide for much more

OBITUARY

MRS. X. F. GEHANT

(Contributed)

Lena May Gehant, the fifth of ten children of Francis and Mary Ann Gallisath, was born on May 27, 1869 in Cambria, which later was included in the city of Johnstown, Penn.

At the age of four years, she with her parents, settled on a farm in the town of Lee Center, Lee county, Illinois, where she grew to womanhood; and for some time prior to her marriage, she conducted a millinery shop in the village of West Brooklyn.

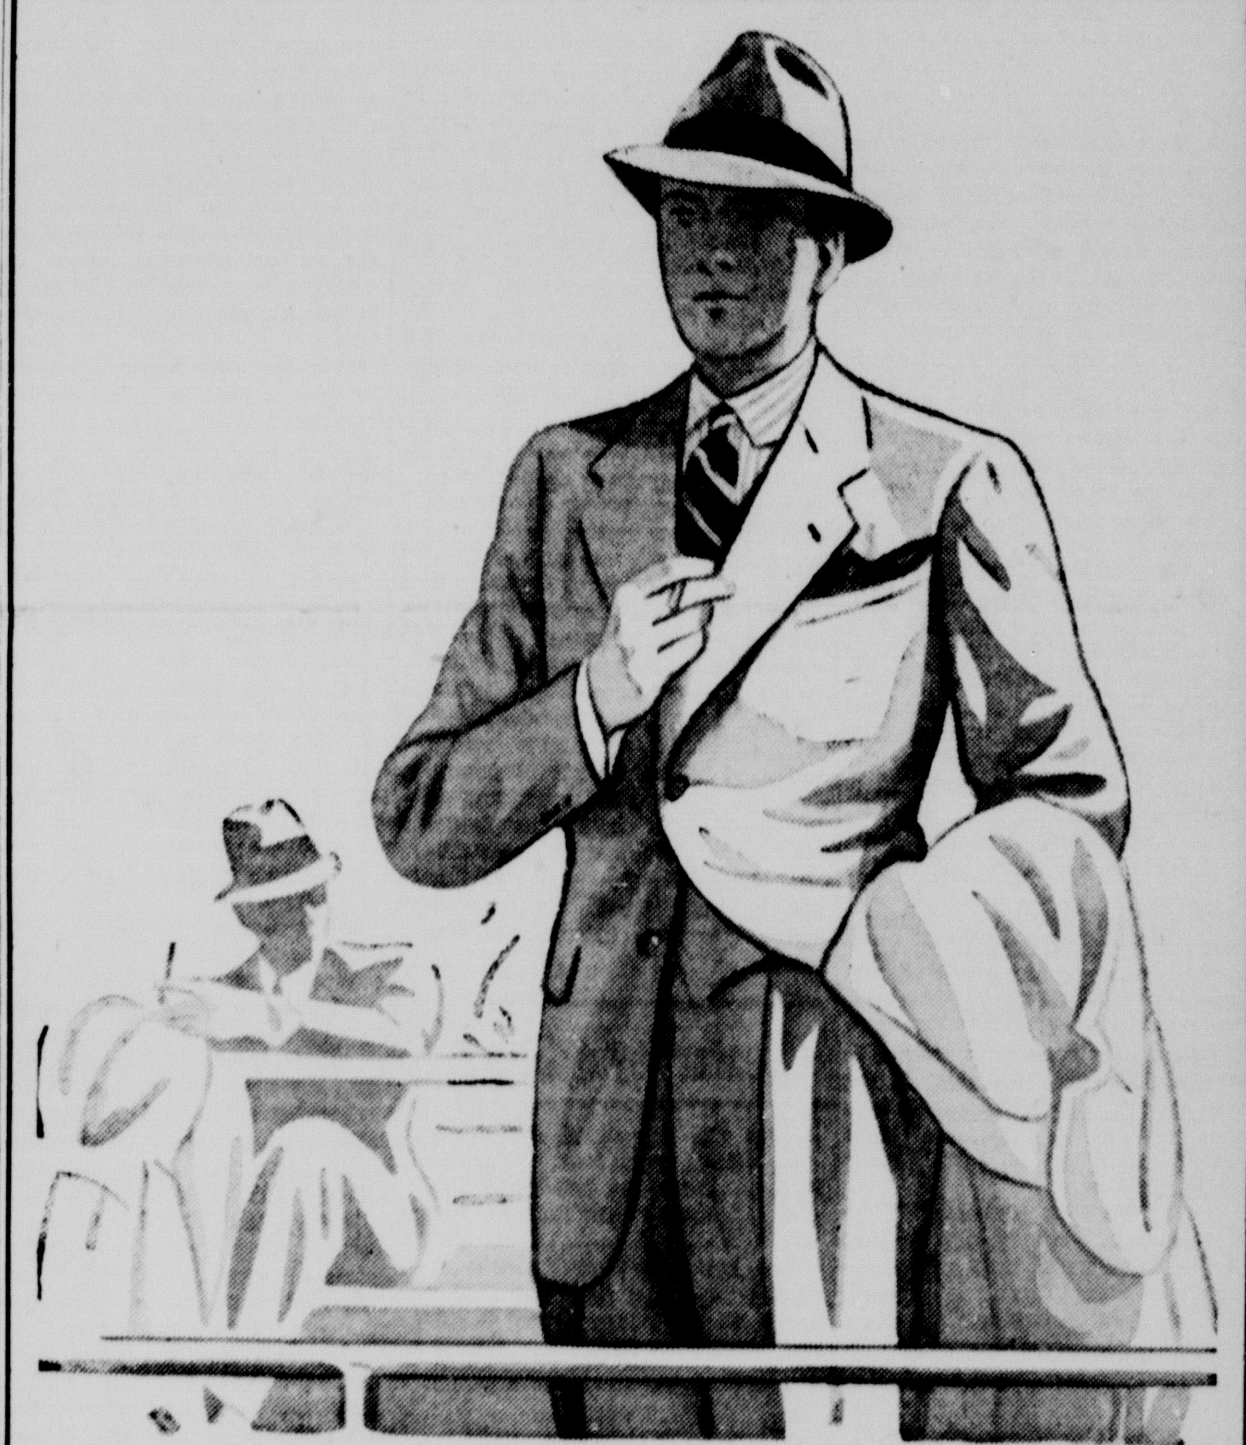

In 1885 she was married to Xavier Francis Gehant, then of West Brooklyn, and to them six children were born, namely, Grover W. of Dixon; Mary Ann, who died in infancy; George M. of Clarkfield, Minn.; Rosalie P. Owen of Niles, Mich.; Evelyn E. Lloyd of Girard, Ill.; and Edmund W. of Dixon. Besides her husband and these five children, ten grandchildren survive her, Alice, George Jr., Ward and Margaret Gehant of Clarkfield, Minn. William and Gwendolyn Owen of Niles, Mich.; and Robert, Jerry, Dean and William Lloyd of Girard, Ill. There is also one sister, Emma Melster, of Willow Lake, South Dakota, and two brothers, William Gallisath of Sterling, Ill.; and Henry Gallisath of Rock Island, Ill. who survive her, besides many nieces and nephews and a host of loving friends.

She was unfortunate in losing her hearing years ago but had always maintained an optimistic philosophy of life. By her amiable and pleasant disposition and personality, she won many friends whose affection and acquaintance she greatly cherished, always appreciating any act of kindness extended to her. She was a kind and loving wife and mother and was intensely devoted to her family and up to the last always was solicitous of doing what she could for their welfare.

"She had a nature you could not help loving. A heart that was purer than gold; And to those who knew her and loved her Her memory will never grow old."

She had been a resident of Lee county almost her entire life and with her husband enjoyed their golden wedding anniversary last winter. Death came to her very suddenly and unexpectedly on the evening of September 22, 1935, the result of a cerebral hemorrhage. Her funeral was conducted from her late home at 11 Galena avenue on the afternoon of September 25, with Rev. Gilbert Stansell of the M. E. church of Dixon, officiating, and she was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery.

ONE LOOK AT THESE PHENOMENAL FOUR AND YOU'LL SAY

"BUICK'S THE BUY!"

TWO years ago Buick deliberately leveled its sights on 1936.

It coolly set its aim on bringing to market for that year a line of motor cars that would startle the world.

It purposed to do that, not by freak or superficial design, not by skimping quality to make a price, but by sheer merit as expressed in automobile beauty, value, ability.

It submits to you now the eminently satisfying results of that fruitful two years of concentrated endeavor.

Here are four separate series of sensational new Buick cars—cars called phenomenal by experts in the trade who previewed them.

Each is a feast to the eye schooled in mature modern styling, as you can see.

Each has under the smooth flowing planes and surfaces of its smart exterior, the solid, tough, durable, beautifully engineered chassis that underwrites Buick dependability.

And each offers you from the stepped-up power of its big thrifty valve-in-head eight-cylinder engine such safe, thrilling performance as you have never known.

These cars are big cars every one—built to almost lavish dimensions of body room and head clearance—yet they handle with the fingertip lightness of small cars.

They are literally breath-taking in power and speed and take-off, yet under their new tiptoe hydraulics and easy-steering knee-action they are almost as manageable as a telephone.

They are thewted and sinewed by that quality which springs from Buick's third of a century of manufacturing experience, advantaged by $14,500,000 worth of new tool, dies and factory re-equipment devised for these cars alone.

These things are so true and so obvious that everywhere you will soon hear the motor-wise saying, "BUICK'S THE BUY!"

WORLD SERIES NEXT MILLION DOLLAR SHOW

Looks Like Cubs Will Be Tigers' Ball Rivals

(This is the first of a series analyzing the world series contenders and their prospects.)

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The world's series, America's next million-dollar sports show, will be renewed next week in Detroit, where it was ended in a shower of fruit and vegetables a year ago.

No matter what steps, if any, are taken to prevent a recurrence of such riotous conduct by Tiger fans, it appears certain that Joe Medwick, target for the 1934 shower, will be missing, along with the rest of the St. Louis "Gas House Gang". It's yet to be settled definitely, but you can write your own ticket on the proposition that Lon Warneke, pride of the Ozarks, and the sensational Chicago Cubs will fling this year's National league challenge to the two-time American League champions.

Tigers Ponder
All of which gives the Tigers something to ponder about for the second year in a row. Last season, Mickey Cochrane and his Battering Bengals were all set to grapple with the New York Giants, only to find the Cardinals climbing all over them.

It went the limit of seven games before the Tigers yielded. It is a bitter setback to Cochrane. He and his men wanted revenge. They thought they were going to have a chance to get it at the expense of the Dean boys, particularly Dizzy. "Just give us another crack at that guy," said Mickey not long ago.

But if the Deans are present, it will be in the capacity of spectators, watching an attempt by the Cubs to make it three world championships in a row for the National League.

Have Been "Hot" Team
The Cubs have been the "hot" National league team since the first of September, when they began their spectacular winning streak. They expect to have the same kind of momentum that carried the Cardinals to victory in 1934 and the Giants to the top in 1933. They didn't take the lead until Sept. 14.

It's a vital point to be considered in "doping" the outcome of the series.

The Tigers have had nothing to worry about since they put on their mid-season drive and shook off the Yankees. Cochrane's crew clinched the flag Saturday.

Again, they must wait around to find out who they will meet in the big series. The strain was such a year ago that the "iron man" Tiger infield had a bad case of "jitters" on opening day.

Should Be Different
This year, things should be different. The Tigers have experience now, plus additional confidence, just as much power and the same capable pitching resources. Bridge-

Error in Count?

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Max Baer, knocked out by Joe Louis at the Yankee Stadium Tuesday night, apparently was counted out through an error in timing.

Representatives of the B. A. Proctor, Inc., sound recording laboratories, who timed the fight at their establishment with a highly technical instrument, said today the recording showed the first round, in which Baer took the count, lasted 9½ seconds longer than the customary three minutes.

The Proctor instrument timed, the fight from a radio broadcast. Two engineers timed the rounds with stop watches and an electric Telechron clock.

The engineers figure the fourth round should have ended about the time the knock-down time keeper reached the count of four on Baer.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Enroute to his California ranch, Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, said today that he reported error in the timing of the fourth round of his fight with Joe Louis "would have made no difference. The better man won."

Baer, accompanied by his mother, his wife, brother Buddy Baer, and his trainer, Izzy Kline, arrived on the Pennsylvania Limited from New York and departed several hours later over the Northwestern for San Francisco.

es, Rowe, Auker and Crowder will be Cochrane's "big four" on the firing line.

There also is the fact that the current Cubs include few regulars with World Series experience. Billy Herman, Gabby Hartnett, Billy Jurges, Lon Warneke and Charley Root are the only men who can be classed as regulars of the team that was slaughtered in 1932 by the Yankees. Frank Demaree and Stanley Hack, regulars now, were substitutes then.

Three of the 1935 Cub regulars—Demaree, Augie Galan and Phil Cavarretta—are not even listed in baseball's Who's Who.

Shifted Radically
The club has been shifted radically since the start of the season. Kiki Cuyler has been sold. Manager Charley Grimm has retired from active play in favor of Cavarretta, and Chuck Klein, who cost $125,000 has yielded to Demaree.

Sensational sophomore pitching by Bill Lee and a comeback by the veteran Root, plus the deal that brought southpaw Larry French and hard-hitting Freddy Lindstrom into the picture, all contribute to the remarkable rise of this made-over outfit. It is led by a fun-loving banjo-playing manager in Grimm, who is well equipped to match wits with the fiery Cochrane.

CUBS SHARPEN CLAWS FOR BATTLE WITH TIGERS

Staging one of the most remarkable winning streaks in baseball, and marching on toward the National League pennant and the world series with the Detroit Tigers, the Chicago Cubs presented a formidable lineup as they posed for this group picture. Left to right, front row: Freddie Lindstrom, Bill Jurges, Augie Galan, Ray Henschaw, Woody English, and Walter Stephenson. Middle row, left to right: Bill Herman, Gabby Hartnett, Phil Cavarretta, Coach Roy Johnson, Manager Charley Grimm, Ken O'Dea, Coach John Corriden, Stanley Hack, and Lon Warneke. Rear row, left to right: Johnny Gill, Tex Carleton, Larry French, Chuck Klein, Tuck Stainback, Charley Root, Trainer Andy Lotshaw, Bill Lee, Clyde Shoun, Frank Demaree, Thomas Casey, and Fabian Kowalik.

KNOX BEGINS ANOTHER GRID VICTORY QUEST

Principia College Will Be First Rival on the Card

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The gallant sons of Old Siwash come up to another crisis tomorrow in their famous gridiron advance to the rear.

Old Siwash—Knox college—will open a brand new football season against little Principia college, with a new all time collegiate record of 28 consecutive defeats, or the dawn of a victory era, hanging on the result.

Siwash goes into the momentous struggle sharing the consecutive defeat record with Hobart college of Geneva, N. Y., at 27.

Not since Oct. 31, 1931, when Beloit bowed, 6 to 0, has the bell in "Old Main" pealed out news of a gridiron triumph. But there is more than a sneaking suspicion that it will ring along about sundown tomorrow.

This Principia game is an added starter on the schedule, stuffed in ahead of the original opener next week with Western State Teachers of Macon, Western has smacked Knox around with monotonous regularity in the past few seasons, and appeared a cinch to cooperate in helping Siwash to an undisputed record.

No Awe-Inspiring Record.
Principia brings no awe-inspiring record. It won five out of seven games last year—against military academies and junior colleges. The school boasts a student body of 250, less than half of them men. It is located in the pleasant hamlet of Elmhurst, Ill., on the majestic Mississippi down in Jersey county.

Until recently it was ranked as a preparatory and junior college institution. Bert Clark, who played football at Missouri, is head coach. The 1935 Knox eleven is a new deal outfit. Pete Reynolds has replaced Lloyd Burdick, who shed 26 pounds as Siwash failed to score a point last year, as head football coach. Of the 14 returning letter-men, not more than six will trot out on the field against Principia's warriors.

The backfield is an all sophomore quartet, and for the first time in four seasons, Knox has forward passing talent. Halfback Erwin Gullett and quarterback Elery "Gabby" Boynton are triple threat stars, and their running mates, Roger Stephenson and Bill Dibble are capable blockers and pass receivers.

COLUMBIA NOT HOPEFUL OF '35 GRID SUCCESS

Little, a Wizard With- out Magic, This Season

(This is another in the series on prospects of major college football eleven.)

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Depression that usually follows a couple of lush seasons appears to have caught up with Lou Little and his Columbia football team.

The Big Little, who looks like Ed Wynn and can do almost as many tricks with his players as the comedian does with his hands, says he will be satisfied if the team breaks even.

Graduation took nine players from his 1934 starting lineup. The left-overs plus some youngsters promoted from last year's freshmen team give him a squad composed mostly of young and untried players.

INELIGIBILITY HITS HAWKEYES' FOOTBALL TEAM

Chicago's Debut is Away From Home; Illini Ready

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—What, if anything, five additional days of practice has done for Big Ten and Notre Dame football, will be demonstrated tomorrow.

Chicago, the only eleven in the league making its debut away from home, was off to Lincoln, Neb., primed to give Nebraska's Cornhuskers a battle. The other five on this week's list of openers had finished preparation, apparently with satisfactory results. The Maroons, handicapped by lack of numbers, had not engaged in the most vigorous sort of preparation, but were in excellent shape due to the extra five days created by moving the opening of practice from Sept. 15 to Sept. 10.

Only at Iowa was there bad news. At the last minute Coach Ossie Solem had to shift his lineup for the Bradley college game, due to the ineligibility of two first string ends, Frank Jakoubek and Gene Liggett. Steve Toth was moved from the second team to quarterback on the Northwestern varsity, replacing Don Geyer, victim of a slight ankle injury, but the latter is expected to play against De Paul.

Minnesota gained full strength for the opening test against North Dakota State when Ed Widseth, giant tackle, became eligible.

At Wisconsin, which opens against South Dakota State, Dr. C. W. Spears did some more experimenting. With Ed Christianson, veteran tackle, out of action because of an injury, he sent Paul Jense from guard to tackle, and replaced the latter with Jim Wright who has played with the reserves.

Illinois had no troublesome injuries and apparently was ready to go at top speed against Ohio University. Notre Dame's regulars, after looking bad on defense all week, found themselves yesterday and had no trouble in halting Kansas players.

Ohio State's first eleven shipped a little in a regulation game with the reserves, permitting the latter a touchdown while piling up 20 points. Coach Harry Kipke let the Michigan squad of with a light drill, while Purdue was given a long scrimmage in the rain. Indiana was driven indoors by rain, putting in a brisk drill on Coach Bo McMillin's five man backfield formation.

It is estimated that of all automobiles produced in Germany last year, practically 20 per cent had front wheel drive.

CORNERSTONE OF FOOTBALL SEASON LAID

Major Schools Will Open Up Against Smaller Foes

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The Alabama—and the Knoxes—of intercollegiate football formally lay the cornerstone of a new and promising campaign this week.

Already touched off by scattering games last week, the season will be in full swing tonight and tomorrow, even though many of the game's traditional powers delay their inaugurations another week.

Despite the unquestioned trend toward their elimination, this week's schedule is dominated by "tune-up" games.

In the midwest and south, however, real competition should be forthcoming in such contests as those involving Notre Dame and Kansas, Nebraska and Chicago, Oklahoma and Colorado University, Rice and Louisiana State, and Duke and South Carolina.

Kansas State Opens
In the East, Duquesne's tussle tonight with Kansas State, surprise champions of the Big Six last year, should be the high spot, although Navy, beaten only by Pittsburgh a year ago, expects no romp with William and Mary.

Such eastern stalwarts as Pittsburgh, Colgate, Fordham, Holy Cross, Villanova, Cornell and Dartmouth are booked against rivals that on paper do not threaten. That goes, too, for Minnesota's 1935 powerhouse, and the Gophers' Big Ten rivals, Illinois, Northwestern, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Most of the big southeastern and southern conference arrays will swing into action with Alabama's Crimson Tide, Rose Bowl champions, leading the way in a "tune-up" battle with Howard.

CARDINALS IN DESPERATE EF- FORT THIS P. M.

Frisch's Men Stand With Backs to Pro- verbial Wall

St. Louis, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The "Gas House Gang" of St. Louis swarmed across the tracks for their last ditch fight today.

Led by their almost unbeatable Dizzy Dean, just spoiling for his 29th scrap of the season, the Cardinals looked hopelessly beaten in their final struggle to halt the merry, mad pennant parade of the 19-in-a-row Chicago Cubs, who had two chances to march into the World Series in a doubleheader starting at 12:45 P. M. (Central Standard time.)

Four up and four to go, with threatening to clinch the pennant by washing out one or two of the remaining games, the Cubs seemingly had nothing to worry about except the awaiting Detroit Tigers in the World Series opener next week.

Lee Is Choice.

"General" Bill Lee, a six foot three right hander who has won 19 and lost six for the best winning percentage of the National league this season, was Manager Charlie Grimm's mound choice for the first game of the twin bill with the surprising gray beard of the Bruins, Charlie Root, refreshed and ready to pitch the second, win or lose. Grimm expected Paul Dean to hurl the second for the Cardinals in case they beat Lee despite the statement of Manager Frankie Frisch that Mike Ryba, a versatile farm hand from Columbus, probably would do the casting.

An all day's rain washed out the second game of the deciding 5-game series yesterday, forcing the doubleheader. Should it rain today—"possibly showers" was the forecast—it would be necessary to play doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday. Any interruption by the elements thereafter would be just too bad for the Cardinals as they forbid three games in one day as the season ends Sunday regardless of the number of contests left on the schedule except in the case of a tie. To tie, the Cards must play and win all four remaining games.

COLD WEATHER RULES LISTED

Various Means of Fighting Deadly Tuberculosis

What the average individual can do to keep healthy during the fall and winter is told in a bulletin issued today by the Medical Committee of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association.

Rules listed by the association for cold weather health are as follows:

1. Go to your doctor for a physical examination. Beginning ailments may be detected while there is opportunity for early correction.

2. Eat fats, starches and sugars for body heat, but do not neglect fresh and cooked vegetables and fruits for minerals, vitamins and roughage.

3. Do not "go stale" through lack of exercise. Physical activity for the normal person is just as essential in winter as summer.

4. Get some sunshine, not strained through glass windows, but directly.

5. Avoid coughs and sneezers, as they spread disease germs. If you catch a cold, do not neglect it.

6. Sleep at least eight hours in every twenty-four. Drink approximately two quarts of liquid daily.

Be moderate in all things. Disease germs more readily attack the over-tired, the over-fed and the under-washed.

In the October 1 edition of the National Observer, a magazine that is distributed throughout the United States and gives comments on the outstanding work of leading citizens, appears a story of Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb.

The story tells of Mr. Collins serving three terms as state representative of this district and of being a candidate for the fourth term. It also praises his work as one of the committee of three in sponsoring the recent Old Age Pension bill that was passed at the state legislative session, since adjourned.

Mention is also made of his work on various important committees of this state listing the appropriation, banks and building, judiciary, insurance, industrial affairs, revenues, railroads and aviation as his important posts.

Rep. Collins will be one of the speakers at an Old Age Pension victory meeting at Peoria Sunday.

THOUSANDS IN PRAYER; POPE IN PEACE PLEA

Eucharistic Congress at Cleveland Hears Voice of Pius

Cleveland, Sept. 27 — (AP) — Thousands of men and women streamed out of Cleveland today with a plea for peace by Pope Pius XI still ringing in their ears and a picture of a stirring religious spectacle bright in their memories.

Late yesterday as the seventh national Eucharistic congress drew to a close, they were part of what probably was the greatest crowd ever to assemble in downtown Cleveland.

A congregation of 100,000 men, women and children poured into the massive Cleveland Stadium to hear the Pope's benediction. Outside the stadium and on streets leading down to the shore of Lake Erie where it stands were 250,000 more.

Police Inspector Martin J. Horigan estimated the number at 250,000. They saw a white silk canopy embroidered with gold carried out of public hall. Under the canopy was Patrick Cardinal Hayes, the Pope's representative at the congress. Cardinal Hayes, in vestments of gold cloth, carried the Eucharist to the stadium.

There were 20,000 in the procession. In bright and sombre colors, they marched to the gates on the lake front, entered at a slow pace and spread out in a human monstrosity.

The hushed audience watched as the Rosary was recited, as various litany were said. There were prayers and hymns. Cardinal Hayes placed the monstrance he held upon the altar. An announcer gave the time and 110,000 men, women and children dropped to their knees. Over a loudspeaker came the Pope's voice from Castel Gandolfo.

"It is the joy of our paternal heart to salute each and every one of you, our good and faithful children," the Pope said in Latin.

Kneeling on the concrete floors of the stadium, the congregation heard him express his desire "to be with you in order to deprecate the unspeakable material and moral havoc of wars and their dire aftermath of tears and sorrow; to implore that peace so much desired by all—peace to those who are near and peace to those who are far."

ABOLITION OF AAA DEMAND OF MEAT PACKERS

Washington, Sept. 26 — (AP) — Meat packers presented to the AAA today a demand for abolition of corn-hog production control and the processing tax.

William Whitfield Woods, Chicago, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, asserted that the fate of many small businesses rests in the hands of the farm administration.

Woods was a witness in a hearing called by the AAA to determine whether there should be a corn-hog adjustment program next year, and if so, what that program should be. Proponents of a program, representing farmers from the corn belt, were heard yesterday.

In a prepared statement Woods declared the emergency which bought about the AAA and corn-hog adjustment had passed, and that there is today no disparity between hog prices and prices of commodities farmers buy.

A scarcity of hogs, he said, has decreased our export trade, alienated domestic consumers from pork, and become the occasion of demonstrations by consumers and general complaint in connection with hog products.

He asserts the processing tax has "provoked the hostility of consumers" and that the return to farmers is far above the level contemplated by congress. Higher prices for the winter season have been forecast by the agriculture department, Woods said.

PRESIDENTIAL RECONCILIATION EFFORTS FUTILE

Defeated Kentucky Democrat Declines Bid of the Executive

Louisville, Sept. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's gesture toward reconciling factional differences among Kentucky Democrats on the eve of the state gubernatorial election met with a setback today.

Thomas S. Rhea, of Russellville, defeated by Lieutenant Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler for the nomination as governor in the Democratic run-off primary, declined to meet the president today aboard his special train at Cincinnati. In a sharply worded reply to an invitation from M. H. McIntyre, the president's secretary, for a conference with the president, Gov. Ruby Laffoon and Chandler Rhea said:

"I am very much grieved not to be able to comply with any request of the president. However, in declining this invitation I feel justified by reason of the fact because of representations made to the White House by one Robert W. Bingham, you (McIntyre) and others concerning the situation in Kentucky and my friendship and that of Gov. Laffoon for the president, the doors of the White House have been closed to me and my friends for the past several months.

Aid Considered
"And this notwithstanding both you and Postmaster General Farley knew and Mr. Farley has publicly stated it was through my work and influence Kentucky instructed for the president in his race for the Democratic nomination in 1932. It is also conceded by all well informed people that he could not have been nominated at the Chicago convention without the vote of Kentucky. It is not my desire to break down or lower the barriers thus raised against me at the White House but I assure you there is no individual or group of persons whether Democrats or chronic bolters (such as your Kentucky contingent) can swerve me from my love of and devotion to the principles of the Democratic party."

TO MEET LEADER
Enroute with President Roosevelt to the Pacific Coast, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The Roosevelt vacation special sped across the middle west today, bearing the chief executive to four speaking engagements, a visit to the California-International Exposition at San Diego, and then a 20-day fishing cruise back through the Panama Canal.

During the trip, the politically-wise look for pronouncements with a bearing on the 1936 campaign. Also, the president is ready for a series of brief chats with political leaders as the big special, carrying an unusually large party of officials and aides, flashes onward.

Would Be Peace-Maker
A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, Democratic nominee in this year's gubernatorial election, in that state and his defeated Democratic opponent, Thomas S. Rhea, were invited to board the train as it skirted Kentucky. The meeting, it was believed, was planned as a harmony session, though reports from Frankfort, Ky., indicated uncertainty as to whether Rhea would appear. Paul McNutt, Democratic governor of Indiana, was another on the list of callers.

Heading across Ohio, Indiana and Illinois today, Roosevelt journeys tonight into Nebraska, home state of Senator Norris, veteran Republican insurgent and friend of Roosevelt, tomorrow, the president talks to a gathering of farmers on a regional radio broadcast set-up. Observers look for some remarks on the AAA.

Other speeches will follow at Boulder Canyon dam, Los Angeles and San Diego.

PORTUGAL had confined its ambitions mainly to its own territory. When Prince Henry, son of King John I. instituted a series of explorations and discoveries that converted his country into a powerful empire.

Henry erected an observatory and a school for navigation, and from there he sent his pupils on voyages that resulted in the discovery of the Azores, the Madeira islands, Cape Verde and the coast of Guinea. For half a century after his death, in 1460, his influence brought about further Portuguese expansion in South America and in India. It was through him also that the trade in Negro slaves was begun.

The stamp shown below is one of three types Portugal issued in Prince Henry's honor in 1914, on the 500th anniversary of his birth.

Dun-Bradstreet Weekly Review of Business Issued

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—

Higher temperatures in many parts of the country slackened the rate of merchandise movements to some extent this week, but the general progressive trend was not altered by any substantial degree, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., said today.

"While gains for the week in retail distribution were not impressive, the widened margin from the 1934 level was noteworthy," its survey said.

"Wholesale markets were busier, as reorders increased and advance commitments expanded, due to declining stocks and lessened apprehension of inventory depreciation as prices strengthened. The average of industrial operations was steadier.

"Retail sales expanded moderately, with the peak for the season yet to be discerned. Consumers appear to be definitely in a buying mood, judging from the necessities of their interest from necessities to luxury items and higher-priced merchandise.

"The increase for the week ranged from 2 to 10 per cent, while the estimated gain over the comparative 1934 total averaged 12 to 30 per cent, taking the country as a whole."

Henry erected an observatory and a school for navigation, and from there he sent his pupils on voyages that resulted in the discovery of the Azores, the Madeira islands, Cape Verde and the coast of Guinea. For half a century after his death, in 1460, his influence brought about further Portuguese expansion in South America and in India. It was through him also that the trade in Negro slaves was begun.

The stamp shown below is one of three types Portugal issued in Prince Henry's honor in 1914, on the 500th anniversary of his birth.

POETS' CORNER

THE VILLAGE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The village fire department has a history all its own, which takes us back full fifty years before the town was grown.

Those were the days when fires were fought with water buckets passed from hand to hand, from pump to fire. And never was outclassed.

Then came the old hand-engine with its creaking and its wheeze. Which forced the stream of water high from pump into the trees.

And then the waterworks appeared with pumping station power. A hundred feet it shot the stream, straight up into a tower.

And then the fire department ran with truck, and hose and cart. It rattled over rutty streets and nearly fell apart.

There was a time it had to stop. When going to a fire, because a wobbling wheel came off. It was bound on with wire.

Another time the gas was gone—had vanished from the truck; And firemen fretted, fumed and swore about that terrible luck.

And when the old fire-bell was rung, Or siren shrieked its ire, The firemen even had to ask: "Say! where in h—s the fire?"

And, after running round the town A half a mile or more, They'd finally find a flame or smoke

Come pouring from a door. Then all excitement would prevail. With shouts, and cries and din, As neighbors, friends and firemen fought

To save the things within. Some people seemed to be composed, While others lost their heads. They'd throw the mirrors through the door,

But carry feather-beds. The firemen, too, would have their tasks, And arguments to tell. The nozzles would work quite right,

Nor wrenches not so well. The hose would spout a fountain, where It was so weak with age, And many moistened trousers caused the mind to be in rage. The funny things that happened then Are always to be told. They make one somewhat happy and They never do grow old. Yet after all, in village life, The fire department days, Have always solved the problem that A fire department pays. —Bela R. Halderman, Franklin Grove, Ill.

The BLUE DOOR

By Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 18, in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Worthville. The owner, old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as PENNY, mistakes Ruth for ELAINE, a girl who had been a grandchild but the house. Ruth falls in love with JOHN McNEILL, the young man next door, and resolves to stay on a while, posing as Elaine.

Elaine, at Graycastle College, owns a society meeting to win the love of her childhood hero, John McNeill. She plans to go to Worthville, John, receiving a letter from Elaine, realizes that the girl in the old Hunter house is a fake. He loves her, however, and resolves to tell her, but before he can do so is called out of town.

John leaves a note of explanation to Ruth, but old Bertha destroys it. Ruth thinks John has gone away in disgust, having found her out. She goes to the library for a book and there she follows the person who has written it to the third floor and discovers him to be JOHN McNEILL. Elaine's uncle, who has been unjustly held in an insane asylum, Ruth argues and resolves to save his sanity legally.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXV
WORTHVILLE was proud of its train service. Long ago Silas Hunter had routed his trains through the town and built an imposing depot. One could reach the little city on through trains, without hardship.

Stepping from a Pullman coach at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, a beautiful girl, wearing expensive simple travel clothes and an alert expression, tipped the porter and looked around for a taxi. When a driver presented himself, she indicated half a dozen bags at her feet and directed crisply, "The Silas Hunter house on Garfield avenue!"

Thus Elaine Chalmers arrived for her campaign to win John McNeill's heart.

When the taxi turned in at the Hunter gateway the appearance of the place dismayed her.

She got out and the driver piled her bags around her on the porch and left her there. Almost before her knocking had died away, the door opened a crack and a wrinkled old face peered out.

Elaine exclaimed, "Penny!" "Eh?" said old Bertha in surprise.

"It's me, Penny! It's Elaine Chalmers. I wrote you I was coming, and here I am! Come help me get these bags in. Aren't there any other servants here at all?"

GOOD THOUGHTS

All I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen.

—Emerson

A perfect faith would lift us absolutely above fear.

—George MacDonald

Oh he who trusts in God's protection And hopes in Him when fears alarm. Is sheltered by His loving kindness.

Delivered by His mighty arm: If ye God's law can understand, Ye have not builded on the sand.

—George Neumark

Faith is a powerful searchlight, searching out the power of good, seeing promise where finite sense harbors despair, seeing victory where doubt apprehends defeat. Faith discovers the very quality, idea, or thought which we need to complete the solution of any and every problem. It is a happy, trustful quality, shining all along the pathway of true thinking. The lamp of faith banishes the night of doubt.

—Christian Science Sentinel

Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear. . . But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
"The Price of Discipleship" is the theme with which the pastor closes the Sunday morning services of the conference year. It has been a good year and much has been accomplished, as witnessed the reports of the chairmen of the organizations within the church and the pastor's general review of the year given at the recent session of the quarterly conference. The conference year ends Monday evening, the 30th at which time it is hoped every bill of the local program and the general church assessments to the church in Dixon will be paid in full. When this is done it will place this church in a small group of churches within the three hundred composing the Rock River conference, for all too many churches are in debt on their property and deficient in their missionary, educational and benevolent assessments. For the favorable condition of the Dixon church in these matters the pastor is grateful to everyone of the Methodists of Dixon-land, and all of us in the church are grateful to our Heavenly Father whose loving kindness faileth not. 10:45 is the hour.

The church school will convene at 9:45. Now that vacations are a thing of the past and the call of the fall and winter work is sounding in our ears, it is hoped that all who expect to join the school this year will be present Sunday morning, and be assigned a place in the proper class.

Miss Helen Cline will speak at the Epworth League at 6:30. The general theme for some weeks will be "Personality Enriched Through Friendship." The president of the league will have charge of the meeting.

The pastor will preach the last sermon of the conference year at 7:30 and the men will lead the people in the hymns.

Monday evening the official board members will enjoy a picnic supper at the church. The arrangements of the meal are in the hands of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Mary Sworn and the Circle heads in charge.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the mid-week service as usual.

Thursday afternoon 2:30, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. T. W. Clayton. Mrs. I. A. Hardy will present the chapter study.

All are invited to attend some or all of the rich programs in connection with the above mentioned conference session at Elgin. DAILY HEALTH

THE SCHAFER METHOD

The Schaffer or "prone pressure" method of resuscitation is performed as follows:

Lay the patient on his stomach, one arm extended directly overhead, the other bent at elbow and with face to one side, resting on the hand or forearm, so that the nose and mouth are free for breathing.

Kneel, straddling the patient's hips with knees just below the patient's hip bones. Place the palms of your hands on the small of the back with the fingers over the ribs, the little finger just touching the lowest rib, the thumb alongside the fingers; the tips of the fingers just out of sight.

While counting one, two, and with arms held straight, swing forward slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually, but not violently, brought to bear upon the patient. This act should take from two to three seconds.

While counting three, swing backward so as to remove the pressure, and lift your hands from the patient.

While counting four, five, rest. Repeat these operations deliberately, swinging forward and backward 12 to 15 times a minute—a complete respiration in four or five seconds. Keep time with your own breathing.

Begin artificial respiration as quickly as possible. Peel with your fingers the sufferer's mouth and throat, to remove any foreign bodies such as tobacco or false teeth. If the mouth is tight shut, pay no attention to it until later. Do not stop to loosen the victim's clothing, but begin actual resuscitation at once. After artificial respiration has been started and while it is being continued, have someone else loosen any tight clothing about the person's neck, chest or waist.

Keep the patient warm. Continue artificial respiration without interruption until natural breathing is restored, or until a physician declares that rigor mortis (stiffening of the body) has set in.

Tomorrow—Heat as Medicine

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.—St. Luke 17:3.

A wise man will make haste to forgive, because he knows the full value of time and will not suffer it to pass away in unnecessary pain.—Rambler.

BELIEVE GREAT BRITAIN PLANS INCREASED NAVY

New Construction Will Keep Within Limits of Naval Treaty

London, Sept. 27.—(AP)—An authoritative source today stated the belief that Great Britain soon will launch a new naval construction program, kept strictly within the limitations of the Washington treaty of 1922, however.

Official sources said that a report in some sections of the British press that the British government soon would send Washington a note terminating that treaty was completely without foundation.

Said a foreign office official: "There is no truth whatever in the report that a note will be sent or is contemplated."

Another authority stated it was most unlikely that the cabinet had discussed naval increases at its recent meeting although there was no guarantee that Parliament would not consider the matter when it reconvenes late in October.
